

DOCTORAL PROGRAM in HUMAN SCIENCES

Training Activities – Academic Year 2018/2019

The training activities organized by the PhD program in Human Sciences are comprised of:

Interdisciplinary seminars addressed to all curricula

Groups of seminars on (1) methodological foundations addressed to the 1st year students, and (2) ethics in research, both with co-presence of professors in Philosophy, Education, and Psychology; (3) training to write abstracts, research project proposal and research articles, with co-presence of professors in Education and Psychology; (4) opportunities of funding for research; (5) interdisciplinary topics, held by international experts

Disciplinary seminars devised for each of the curricula, but open to everybody interested in the topic

Philosophy: One-meeting and two-meetings seminars; laboratory on ongoing research projects

Education: Groups of seminars on qualitative methods in educational research

Psychology (international curriculum): Groups of seminars on research methods and applications in different fields of developmental and organizational psychology, held by international experts

Seminars aimed to present and discuss the ongoing research projects, organized by the PhD students at the 2nd or 3rd year

Each PhD student will have the opportunity to illustrate and discuss her/his own research project with two reviewers from other Universities (identified for their expertise in the topic), her/his supervisor, and other interested PhD students, postdoc, and researchers. Keeping the priority of the expertise, the invitation of a reviewer from a University or Research Center abroad is recommended. The available budget for the organization and expenses reimbursement is up to 500-600 euros (according to documented expenses) per seminar

All training activities will take place in the PhD students rooms (Zorzi building, ground floor), according to the following schedule:
